Request: I am just looking through this again and where I requested copied of any patient posters and leaflets the document linked does not include these or mention these.

Answer: The Trust has reviewed your request for information under the Freedom of Information Act (FOI) 2000.

Section 1(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 states:

*Any person making a request for information to a public authority is entitled—
(a) to be informed in writing by the public authority whether it holds information of the description specified in the request, and
(b) if that is the case, to have that information communicated to them.*

East London NHS Foundation Trust does not have any Trust branded patient leaflets or posters that relate to Oxevision, and therefore is unable to provide a response.

Section 1(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 states:

*Any person making a request for information to a public authority is entitled—
(a) to be informed in writing by the public authority whether it holds information of the description specified in the request, and

Question 9: Records of any training provided in using this technology.

Answer: Oxehealth have provided 30 training sessions to Trust staff as follows:

- One train-the-trainer session.
- 28 one-hour training sessions.
- Three away-day training sessions.

The training was attended by ward staff and clinical leads.

Question 10. Details of where footage / information is stored

Answer: Clear (Salient) Video Data is classified as special category personal data and is stored on a local dedicated server at the customer site for up to 24hrs after which it is automatically recorded over.

Occasionally, when it is not possible to do so with other data available, Clear Video Data is copied to a password protected NAS device and either transferred to a clinician at the customer site to investigate a serious incident or transported to a secure server at Oxehealth's premises to investigate a potential performance issue with the software. Data transferred to Oxehealth is retained only until the investigation into the performance issue is complete and is then deleted.

In all cases the Clear Video Data is encrypted in storage and is in a proprietary format which means it cannot be viewed with publicly available software.

All other data generated by the Oxevision system is anonymised and considered to be non-personal data where there is no access to other information (including clear video data) which would identify the individual. This data is stored on the local secure server on the customer site until it has been uploaded to Oxehealth's secure AWS cloud server (located in a UK data centre). It is then automatically deleted from the local dedicated server at the customer site. The data is encrypted in transit to AWS, and additionally encrypted in storage on the AWS server where it is retained for up to two years and is used to monitor the performance of the product and ensure it is performing to the contracted standard.

Question 11. Any Data Protection Impact Assessments for Oxehealth/Oxevision or any other video surveillance or technology enabled vital signs monitoring.
